Annual Matching Contribution

Employees are eligible for a discretionary annual contribution to their 403(b) or 401(k) plan. Employees are not required to participate in the plan to receive the contribution.

The percentage of your annual pay used to determine the amount of the contribution is based on your years of service which is outlined in the chart to the right.

Years of Service	Percentage of Pay
Less than 1 year	0
1 year	1%
2 years	2%
3 years	3%
4 years	4%
5 or more	5%

Pay Period Matching Contribution

Employee may receive a per pay period matching contribution to their 403(b)-plan determined by their years of service.

The match is a full match up to 3% of salary, but depending on your years of service, you receive a percentage of the 3% match. Please see the chart to the right.

Years of Service	Maximum Matching Contribution
Less than 1	None
1 but less than 5	20% of 3% = .6%
5 but less than 10	35% of 3% = 1.05%
10 but less than 20	75% of 3% = 2.25%
20 or more	100% of 3% = 3%

Roth Contributions

A Roth 403(b) deferral is an additional way to save for your retirement through the plan. Like a traditional pre-tax 403(b) deferral, you elect how much of your salary you wish to contribute. Your Roth 403(b) contributions plus your traditional pre-tax 403(b) contributions cannot exceed annual IRS limits.

- Unlike a traditional pre-tax 403(b) deferral amount, the Roth 403(b) allows you to contribute after-tax dollars and then withdraw tax-free dollars from your account when you retire.

A Roth 403(b) contribution could be a good option for: younger employees who have a longer retirement horizon and more time to accumulate tax-free earnings; highly- compensated individuals who aren't eligible for Roth IRAs but want a pool of tax-free money to draw on in retirement; and employees who want to leave tax-free money to their heirs.

Benefit Time

Our total time off is built to help employees have the time off they need to help maintain a work/life balance. Benefit eligibility begins on the first day of employment.
